

Lesson 3: Equations for Functions

Cool Down: The Value of Some Quarters

The value v of your quarters (in cents) is a function of n , the number of quarters you have.

1. Draw an input-output diagram to represent this function.

2. Write an equation that represents this function.

3. Find the output when the input is 10.

4. Identify the independent and dependent variables.